Being a MAPEH educator of the new millennium, it is very important that a teacher should update oneself not just for his/her own sake but also for the students as well. That is why you have to transform yourself into a 21st Century MAPEH educator.

Having considered Music, Arts, Physical Education and Health in one subject is truly challenging. With this, a teacher should be abreast with the necessary qualities he or she must exude.

To be a 21st Century MAPEH teacher, it is essential that you have to contemplate on the subsequent characteristics or attributes:

- Enthusiastic. Basically, enthusiasm is the primary requirement for a MAPEH teacher. Once a teacher has the interest and passion in teaching then we can say that he/she could be an efficient and effective MAPEH teacher.

- Well-organized. Another important attribute of a 21st Century MAPEH teacher is being organized and orderly in your teaching. Having planned out everything for school and for students would create success in the teaching-learning process particularly in MAPEH subject.

- Adept with various teaching strategies. An outstanding teacher knows how to apply different methods in teaching various MAPEH skills which would enhance the teaching experiences of MAPEH students.
Concerned to student’s learning. Since the primary reason of teaching is to educate the learners, it is expected that teachers should focus on the total learning of the students. Furthermore, mastery of skills should be developed within them.

Practical and Engaging. The 21st MAPEH teacher should know how to apply the lessons in the practical way and knows how to engage in various worthwhile activities which will lead the students to further learning.

Creative and Encouraging. The 21st Century MAPEH teacher is creative in presenting the lessons. He/she should go beyond the usual and should employ better ways of doing things in the classroom. Moreover, he/she should encourage students to enjoy and love the subject.

Contributing to student’s development. The 21st Century MAPEH teacher should work on the student’s development in various aspects. That is the reason why he/she gives activities that will cultivate their multiple intelligences and will touch the diversity of learners.
