A TEACHER

by:
Fritzie M. Reyes
Teacher I

Who is a teacher? What are the roles of a teacher?

Try to think of it, there are many words that we can use to describe them. Teacher is a noble profession. A role model of every pupil in a classroom. He also manages the teaching and learning activities in a class. She possesses different values and attitudes that a pupil may acquire. She inspires, teaches, shares knowledge and natures the learner.

Learning then takes place when a teacher is efficient, effective and knows how to motivate the children. He knows how to deal with every pupil in a class and facilities the teaching and learning possesses. Teacher should also possess the abilities and capabilities to handle a different behavior of a child. He can manage the learning situation. He has the mastery of the subject matter and has the huge self-confidence so that he can manage the classroom situation very tightly.

Teacher who possesses different qualities tend to manage the classroom very strongly while the less effective teacher has a disorderly classroom and the pupils are not listening to the teacher because they are distracted. We can say a good and effective teacher has a well-organized classroom management.

References:
