ACTIVITIES ARE IMPORTANT TO GRADE SCHOOL

by:
Celia A. David
St. Francis Elementary School

School is a second home for children. It is also a place wherein pupils feel happy and fun. Thus, it is very important to give them more activities in order to strengthen their abilities and capabilities.

In grade school, activities are significant. It is one way of making children more competent and knowledgeable. These activities may also enhance the pupils to show their talents and abilities through their performance as an individual or as a group.

As the children grow, a high degree of flexibility occurs that's why teachers provide them some activities with various form to cope for the needs of their body and mind.

Activities make the children more flexible and give them opportunities to cooperate with other children, interact with other people, make criticism, learned to observe, and accept responsibilities for the benefit of themselves.

There are times that children don't developed their self-confidence. But through engaging in the different activities wherein teachers provide to them, they learned how to face people, how to deal with their peers and know how to handled problems. And with the help of other extra-curricular activities children learned to relate their real life experiences.

Each type of activities whether it is written, oral, physical or intellectual should be something different and unique but enough to learn values and gives them enjoyment.
References:

https://www.fastweb.com/student-life/articles/why-extracurricular-activities-are-important

https://makerkids.com/5-reasons-school-activities-important/