The Department of Education offers a lot of programs that could lead in targeting the millennium development goal. Its mission is to prepare 21st century learners to an individual that is equip with knowledge, skills and dispositions that may contribute to the betterment of the society. It was on the year 1998, when Republic Act 8525 institutionalized the Adopt-a-School Program.

One of the most important programs conducted, that has a great impact in the Department of Education is the Adopt-a School Program. It encourages private sector to help in the upgrading and modernization of public schools considered to be the poorest schools located around the Philippines. Assistance may be in the form of cash or kind, such as reading materials, books, instructional material, laboratory equipment, computers and health and nutrition needs. It could be in physical facilities, infrastructure and most specially the needs of the schools during the time of brigade eskuwela. The program was created to help generate investment and support to the Department of Education outside the mainstream funding and the national budget.

Adopt – A – School Program is the DepEd’s way to offer all the private entities to be an active partner in the noble goal of educating all Filipinos. With this program, the public schools receive an extended hand toward educational development of every Filipino, that can have the opportunity to pursue their dreams and to open their eyes to the real face of the world.
