ADVANTAGES OF TEACHER-PARENT TEAMWORK

by:
Ramil S. Gigante
Teacher III Orani National High School - Main

In the beaming success of the child’s education and of the school, teacher-parent teamwork is truly contributory. The teachers being teamed-up with parents as partners can work together for the welfare of the entire educational institution and its people.

The presence of communication is the topmost advantage of teacher-parent teamwork. The teachers and parents are able to connect and talk regarding matters about the learners and regarding the school. With communication message are easily conveyed.

Due to teacher-parent teamwork, positive relationship is established. The regularly meeting with parents may establish a strong bond with them. Dealing with them pleasantly would create a positive outcome like a good working relationship.

The education of the students would be well-guided. Since the teachers and parents are collaborating their ideas and efforts in the education of the learners, proper guidance is being provided. The students are being guided soundly through the teacher-parent partnership.

Better academic achievements are yielded among the students when teacher-parent partnership is employed. The students may learn a lot and may attain high or even higher academic performances.

Carrying out school activities would be possible if there is teamwork. The success of every school activity would depend on the teamwork between the teachers and parents. The support of each parent is vital and beneficial.
Handling school issues and problems would be easier to resolve due to partnership. The parents may help the teachers in solving school issues and problems about the schoolchildren. The presence of parents is significant if their children have problems in the school.

Implementing school projects and programs would be easier if parents are supporting the teachers. The teacher-parent partnership makes work easier and more convenient.

Creating external linkages may be realized through teacher-parent teamwork. The teachers and parents may easily find the active support of stakeholders if they work together as a team.

Indeed, teacher-parent teamwork is essential for the education of the learners and for the welfare of the school and its activities and undertakings.

References:

5 February 2021