BRINGING OUT THE BEST IN EVERY CHILD

I believed that every child born into this world is special and each of them has his own gifts /potential. They were created by God with a purpose that needs to be fulfilled and shared to the world. Along their journey, they need to discover their full potential and they all need to understand the reason for their existence here on earth. The gifts of each child is so great that they need our full support to discover that hidden potential. The role of the parents, teachers and all the people surrounding the child is very important in his growing years.

Because we are responsible in making sure that the child will reach his dreams and his goals in life, we must do our best in guiding him and be sure that our role of helping him comes from our heart. We must commit ourselves in performing our tasks as a molder of his character and potentials. The home, the school, the church and the community as well must join hands to tap the best in each individual child.

If there is love and understanding in shaping our kids today, their lives will be meaningful, their parents will benefit from it, the school will be a happy place, our society will be great and there will be fulfilment in the life of each child. There is no greater joy for us adults than to see our kids today reach their full potential.
