DEVELOPING LANGUAGE COMPREHENSION SKILLS

by:
Charito M. Castañeda
Master Teacher I, Jose C. Payumo Jr. Memorial High School

Language comprehension is important in terms of written and spoken language. In order to correct misleading words and statements you should develop comprehension. It is fundamental to language; it helps the child to read and the other academic studies and it increases their critical thinking.

To develop language comprehension the first thing you need to do is read more books because it builds your vocabulary and strengthens your brain and it helps you to gain more knowledge and it improves your reading ability.

• After reading more books Do the verbal and non-verbal communication, in order to develop your comprehension and it's an easy way to check that you learn how to be a great communicator. Communication is important because it’s a way to deliver information to others and also, it's a way to express their ideas.

• Try to write some stories and articles or anything that helps you to express yourself in terms of writing. It starts to develop your ability to write and explain your ideas to others. Writing is the best way to check your grammar, and spelling.

Developing language comprehension skills helps a lot of people to communicate in a way that they can understand each other and it can be a way to visualize anything in a way of describing it and giving description on it.

References:

Comprehension skills. In https://www.colorincolorado.org/article/reading-comprehension-skills-english-language-learners