“Without education and liberty, which are the soil and the sun of man, no reform is possible; no measure can give the result desired.”

-Jose Rizal

Every great mind in the history of human race say the same thing about education, it is essential in every civilization’s progress. From Plato who founded the Academia in Greece on 428 B.C. to our very own Dr. Jose Rizal, knows how important education to our society and for its future and continuation of the human race. Humankind has survived everything that nature has to offer because of the knowledge that has been accumulated by man over time.

With the discovery of writing and documentation, the passing of knowledge has been very effective and teaching very easy. Ever since its discovery, man took education seriously realizing that it can help a community or a nation to progress in the future and make quality of living better.

Knowledge as time goes by needs to be passed down. A good example is man’s discovery of making fire. Fire is crucial to innovation and the knowledge of making it had been passed down up to the present and it helped us improve our quality of living. From that, we can prove that education is necessary for us to be prepared for the future.

Education can help us build a better future in terms of when:

- It makes us aware of what is happening to our society. Education keeps us from being ignorant. It gives us consciousness that can help us in making crucial decisions in life.
- Education makes us more rational. We can distinguish what is right or wrong and it helps us in doing the best for our future. It makes us better citizens.
- Education opens up wider possibilities and opportunities. It can help in the innovation of past and present technology. Because of this, education can make our quality of life better and better as time pass by.
People of our society especially children and students need to understand and appreciate the importance and power of education to make our society better and to secure our future. Educators have the responsibility to teach the people the importance of education.
