EMBRACING CHANGE

by:
Aileen A. Manuel
Teacher III, Hermosa Elementary School

Everything has changed.

Some Studies state that televisions, movies, computers, laptops, and cellphones are some influential factors that leads to truancy of our students in the school.

But everything has changed. Everything is constantly changing.

In today’s world situation, in the time of pandemic, changes observed. Unquestionably, television, computer, cellphones, and other gadgets are now indispensable modality of learning. Media plays a significant role. Like other things, accept it or not, education is also progressing day by day. It is not limited to the four walls of a classroom anymore. We can acquire knowledge and information even we are at home. Media is accountable for this development. It is used for circulating information and ideas. It sends the information to the masses.

From traditional to digital.

Traditionally, the skill to transfer information were restricted to oral information and some physically written information. It was in the form of books, manuscripts, documents, etc. As the world turned more advanced and complex, the quality of education also improved. Media helped in providing education quickly, competently, and without geographical limitations. Media plays an important role in our lives.

On Denial
Some people are still resistant to change. It might be out of fear or they’re just set in their ways and don’t see a need for change. However, sometimes change is inevitable to move forward in life. I understand that we are all afraid what will be the future become. We are half hearted to move on. We are still in denial that soon life will be back in normal. We do not have courage to accept the things that which cannot be changed. But we must put in mind that we learn new things every time we make a change. We can discover new insights about life, learn life lessons, and grow. Every change is a step closer to where we wanted to be. When we make changes often, we learn to easily adapt to new situations, new environments, and a new way of life. As a result, we adjust to unexpected changes with ease like today’s situation. Changes bring fresh excitement to our lives. One small change at a time will eventually lead to the desired outcome. As DepEd Secretary Leonor Briones said, “No Filipino will be left behind amidst the crisis”. So we must keep on going. We must not be afraid to try new things.

Do not wait until everything is just right!

We never know what each change will bring. When you stray from your usual path, new opportunities are waiting for you around the corner. Changes will bring new choices and bring us closer to our goals. Fear tends to be the main cause of what holds us back but we need to be positive as well. No one knows when the Pandemic caused by COVID 19 will end. We don’t need to wait until everything is just right. It will never be perfect. There will always be challenges and obstacles. There is no perfect condition. We must face the situation with courage. We must shield with wisdom and knowledge. We must wash our worries and anxiety. We must continue to educate ourselves. We must accept change.
References:

Research: To Get People to Embrace Change, Emphasize What Will Stay the Same, by Merlijn Venus, Daan Stam and Daan van Knippenberg, August 15, 2018