EVALUATING THE TEACHERS IN THE NEW MILLENIUM

by:
Arianne C. Austria
Teacher I, Samal North Elementary School

Teachers are said to be the workforces in shaping the future of our youth and they are called the builders of our present generation, thus, their attitudes and skills are needed in shaping our youth today and in meeting the demands and challenges of our modern world. It must be clear that teachers today must be equipped with enough skill in the application of modern technology and innovation in teaching. The function of the mentors today is to teach wholeheartedly so that in the atmosphere of modernity, youths can be lifted up from ignorance.

The Department of Education today prioritizes the trainings of our teachers in the use of computers and the application of modern technology in teaching to improve the teaching-learning condition in every school and to ensure excellence in the field of education. Innovations have been introduced to tap the potentials of teachers in their chosen expertise. However, helping the teachers to improve their skills is not enough if the goal of the Department of Education is to provide quality education among the learners. A call for dedication and commitment in performing the duty of a teacher is needed. Determination in the fulfilment of their job is required to meet the demands of the modern time and to attain excellence.

Today, teachers in the new era are expected to perform well and to do their duties well. They need to focus not only in teaching the tool subjects but also to help the learners in improving their communication skills and to develop higher order thinking skills and to mold the children to become better persons. This means that a big challenge was thrown in the arms of the teachers today.