HOW TO BE A TEACHER-HERO

by:

Vivian S. Roxas
Master Teacher I, Orion Elementary School

To be a national hero is quite difficult to achieve but to be a teacher-hero is something that can be achieved.

To be a hero in your own right, a teacher may ponder on the following guiding tips:

Be engaging in a variety of activities that involve the welfare of the pupils. In this way, the teacher is becoming a boosting mentor of the pupils as they make their journey in learning.

Be an inspiring figure in the school. A teacher may be a picture of hope, strength and ability. This could be adorable on the eyes of each child and would inspire him or her in life.

Be a helping agent to the young kids. Since they look up to you, you have to guide them in their search for better education. The teacher-hero is always at the side of the kid when difficulty is being encountered.
The teacher-hero is on the action of understanding the nature and needs of the school kids. Thinking of the things that are best for them and being able to attend to their educational yearnings would be heroic.

The true teacher is sympathizing with the learners’ sentiments and feelings. Because hardships are being experienced by the learners, the teacher is sensitive to assist them.

The teacher-hero keeps on amazing the pupils. This could be in the form of leading them to innovations and showing them the happiest side of education.

The teacher-hero is clearly communicating all the concerns of the youth and conveying them to the school administrator and parents for consideration.

Certainly, in simple ways, a teacher can be a hero. Being a hero is doing things to others unselfishly.

References:

https://www.teachingandlearning.ie/what-does-it-take-to-be-a-teaching-hero/