HOW TO DEAL STUDENTS UNUSUAL BEHAVIOUR POSITIVELY

by:
Marvin E. Orcena
Bataan School of Fisheries

Study.com states that “positive discipline is a more effective way to manage misbehaving students in the classroom rather than using punishment or rewards”. There are some positive quotes which says that “Your positive action combined with positive thinking results in success”. Teachers have difficulties in imposing discipline to their students because of the different attitudes and behaviors they already have. Teachers sometimes get mad, throw bad words and sometimes if failed to adopt an effective way of dealing with students they quit teaching. Most teachers say that it is easier to teach than to discipline.

Here are some important tips on how to deal students positively:

1. Treat each student as special one even he has negative attitudes. Instead of being mad of his negative attitude try to find out the reason. You talk to him personally and explain to him that what he is doing is not good and convince him not to do the same thing because his behavior can affect your teaching and also his classmates.

2. Give extra love and attention to those with negative attitude. The reason why they are creating troubles within the classroom is that they want to get extra attention. Parents who failed to give love and attention to their children has a negative effect on them. Teachers could assign classroom duties which can help boost their morale and develop self-worth. In trusting them that they can be depended upon with duties, we are teaching them the value of responsibility.
3. Be understanding to your students shortcomings Always remember that they are not yet fully mature to understand everything. They commit mistakes because they lack understanding in the importance of developing right attitude towards other people and parents failed to train them properly on the right attitudes and values that they need to possess.

4. Identify the weakness and strength of your students. Students have strengths and weaknesses help them to make their weakness be their strengths and enhance more the strengths. You can give them duties and responsibilities where they can utilize their talents to be productive.

5. Encourage them to join different school activities, contests, clubs, sports and the like. that best suit their talents. We must give every student a chance to prove themselves that they have talents and are capable of achieving their goals in life, only they were not given a chance to show and prove it.

6. Conduct school program where we could employ the talents of these students so that they will not experience boredom or depression not being recognized nor invited to participate in any school activities. If they are always involved in different programs and activities we were able to help them develop their skills also their self- confidence.

References:

Using Positive Discipline Techniques in the Classroom

https://study.com

Classroom Management Positive Discipline for Teachers

https://www.positivediscipline.com