The school is the center for learning where the child is developed and nurtured. To facilitate the flow of learning, the teacher should improve the classroom as best learning environment and make it conducive to learning can be made by allowing students the space and time to interact. However, creating and maintaining it as a stimulating learning environment can also be achieved through an effective classroom organization. That is why there is a need for teachers to focus on reorganizing the classroom, suggested by (www.teachingexpertise.com)

MODEL CLASSROOM ORGANIZATION STRUCTURE

1. The best learning environment is one with high challenge and low stress. Allow the students to freely express themselves.

2. Rituals and patterned positive teacher behavior influence performance. The approach of the teacher must be lively and compassionate to help them feel they are important.

3. Constant and varied exposure to new materials, encourages quicker and deeper learning, introduce to students varied form of strategies and materials, and help them explore more.

4. Differentiated instructions are necessary for the effective individualized learning. We organized and see to it that every student was given emphasis.
5. Constant and varied exposure to new material encourages a quicker and deeper learning.

6. Music can be used to improve recall as well as create the chosen learning. Incorporate a range of teaching strategies and utilizing them according to plan.

7. Ensure resources that are appropriate, accessible, identifiable and relevant to children’s learning needs.

8. Environment shows support for students to become independent and active learners.

9. Adopt a collaborative approach when planning for students’ needs.

10. Good visual display can improve and recall attention up to 80%.

Equal opportunities form an integral part in the formal and informal curriculum. That’s the reason why teachers should be fair in treating students and in applying the best resources available. The best learning environment can only be achieved through teacher initiative in bringing about two students an environment that students like to stay and love to study, the best classroom should bring comfort and a feeling of belongingness to learners.
