MAKING OUR STUDENTS LEARN

by:
Zaira Mae M. Villegas

The teacher plays a vital role in providing quality education to all learners. She must see to it that each individual learner has good educational foundation. All educators must exert more effort in the preparation of daily lessons instructional devices and activities to arouse the interest of their learners. They need to give and dedicate themselves fully in their day routine to make their students learn.

As teachers and as facilitators of learning one of our roles is to create a learning environment that is conducive to learning and one that will inspire our children. An environment that is child-friendly and a school that imposes Positive Discipline. We also need to provide challenging Hands on activities during experiments, observations, community tours and the like to make each lesson interesting to all learners. Allowing our students to experience varied ways of Self-Learning Methods will help a lot to mold them and make them learn thru discovery technique.

Encouraging our students to engage in social/school activities will help a lot to improve their personalities and will help them develop their connections and working relationship to other students. Thru this way, teachers can lead each learner to a more mature understanding.

If all teachers world give their best in making each student learn, attaining that desire for quality education will be possible.

References:
The Modern Teacher Magazine 2004 Edition