MILLENNIAL EDUCATION
Written by: Beverly D. Tongol
Teacher III
Old San Jose Elementary School
Dinalupihan, Bataan

The bulk of people who is being mostly featured in the world today may said to be the millennial people. This connotes that the education that we offer to these young people is indeed relevant, interactive and worthy.

Millennial education addresses diversity. This kind of education discusses the different cultures and traditions of people offshore and onshore. Considering these ideas may lead to better understanding of people and in establishing harmony with them.

Millennial education caters the digital age. Since we are living in the digital or electronic age, the global connection is made possible. Millennial education is indeed after for reaching and knowing the trends in the educational field.

Millennial education considers researches. What is good now in education among the millennial people is that it is research-based. The situations and learning experiences in the school are improved through researches.

Millennial education utilizes technology. The technological advancement is also being enjoyed in the millennial education. It exposes the students to breakthrough applications, systems and gadgets.

Millennial education entertains creative thinking. The students are not just confined in the box instead they are allowed to be creative. The learners are made more creative for exercising their talents and skills in their chosen specializations.

Millennial education embraces challenges. The millennial education is not restricted to one concept. It accepts changes and challenges in order to answer the needs of the educational beneficiaries and to meet people’s expectations.
Millennial education considers the industries. The education that we have now is not only for the sake of learning but it is the preparation of the students for different industries in the society. It is developing the skills and inclinations of the learners for work in the industry.

Millennial education is somewhat open, relevant and productive for the benefit of the millennial students.

References:

https://hackernoon.com/what-millennials-demand-from-education-a291011a71c5
https://millennialmagazine.com/2018/07/19/how-millennials-are-changing-the-education-industry/