NO CHARGE

by:
Marry Lee A.A Jero

We live in this world with full of charges. We pay for our food, our clothing, our homes, our education, our fares and even taxes. That is life full of charges.

Above everything or anyone in this world, God shows His unconditional love upon us by sending His only begotten son Jesus Christ to save us from our sins without asking for any charges.

Just like a mother who gave her life for her children, from conceiving a baby to her womb, bearing a child for nine months, undertaking the pain of labor, giving birth, nurturing them, giving all they need, sending them to school, being there through good times and most of their bad times, until they will raise their own family and even taking care of their grandchildren for them when they are busy with their works. Everything is no charge. That is mother’s love.

The greatest love shows no boundaries. It is willing, it is humble, it is patient and it is kind and loving. It does not wait for any charges or exchange. As a child, I value my mother and father for bringing me up in this world, for showing their love on us and for the values they imparted on us. Now that I am also a mother, I would surely be like them and being better than them by not doing their flaws and filling their emptiness.
As a teacher, even we are paid by the government through our salary, our love, hard work and patience to our pupils can never be paid off by any amount because we love and treat our pupils like our own child.

Joseph Campbell said, “The job of a teacher is to teach students to see vitality in themselves”. We have to teach our pupils how to burst their power, their ability, and their talents even on the most difficult possibilities. We are their mothers. We are their strength. All the sacrifices a mother could give to see them in success. A great teacher brings out the best in his pupils without expecting anything in return. No charge just pure love.

References:
Successful & Satisfied for Teachers, page 67
https://www.goodreads.com Quote by Joseph Campbell