OUR HOME IS A SCHOOL

by:

Elena E. Talabong

Teacher II, Bataan School of Fisheries

Home is considered as the shelter of each individual. It is where sustaining of numerous structures begins. The kind of environment which the home offers is basic to the advancement of a person. It is one of the elements that chooses the development of the character, behavior, personality, and even the intelligence of a child.

A few studies were already conducted about the role of the parents in this viewpoint. In the US alone, an examination was led with respect to why the Asian-American understudies perform well in the school when contrasted with their American partners. One of the intriguing reasons that rose with regard to why Asian-Americans exceed expectations was a direct result of the manner in which they were raised as children. The culture where they are exposed upon dictated so much the totality of the Asian children. It is additionally intriguing to take note of that Asian students achieve better in the field of Mathematics. Sad to say, the opposite is going on in the Philippines.

Since the parents are the captain of their home, their decision on how the home environment of the child will resemble lies fundamentally on their hands. However, researchers give little consideration to the impact of the home environment in the formation of the children. We should embrace the fact that home is also a school.

References:

Foundations of Education II (Historical, Philosophical, and Legal Foundations of Education), Third Edition by Rosalinda A. San Mateo and Maura G. Tungco, page 110, copyright 2003
How Do Asian Students Get to the Top of the Class? by Dr. Soo Kim Abboud and Jane Kim, http://www.greatschools.net/parenting/teaching-values/parenting-students-to-the-top.gs?content=481