Aside from the mainstream schools, the people should be informed of the so called alternative schools for them to avail of the access to education. As the word connotes this is an alternative venue for the students who have different cases or situations in life.

According to Sustainable Development Goal 4: Ensuring Inclusive, Equitable, and Quality Education and the Promotion of Lifelong Learning Opportunities for All, recognizes several impediments for universal education and attempts to mark them through targets to increase the number of scholarships to students in developing nations and create educational facilities that are gender sensitive and disability inclusive.

Alternative schools indeed touch the lives of different people most especially those who have special needs and with special cases.

The students with problems in behaviors and emotions are being taught in an alternative school. Alternative schools direct their behaviors and help them cope with their emotional struggles and difficulties.

The students with specialized interests or talents are being catered in an alternative school. This is to make them excel in their respective fields and to make them better achievers.

The students with disabilities, with medical concerns and with learning disorders are served in an alternative school. The needs of the disabled people, unhealthy and with learning disabilities are being given care by the alternative schools.
The students who are at risk of dropping out and those who already dropped out from school are also being given focus by alternative schools. Saving the future of the youth is one of the great advocacies of alternative schools.

The students who are suspended, expelled or incarcerated are supposed to be given chances by alternative schools. They are given the opportunities to continue with their studies and still have better chances of a bright tomorrow.

Student-parents are also being addressed in an alternative school. This is to help them study and work at the same time. Given with a proper schedule they can do both.

Alternative schools are worth-knowing for the people to identify the kind of people they serve.
