A good leader has an exemplary character. The most important characteristic that a leader must be trustworthy to lead others, trusted and be known to live their life honestly, and with integrity. “Walk the talk” and act by doing and have responsibility for others. Respect for the good character and trustworthiness of the person who leads for real authority is born. Energetic about their work and about their role as a leader. Anybody will respond more openly to a person of passion and dedication. Leaders need to be a source of inspiration and be a motivator towards the required action or cause.

Although the responsibilities and roles of a leader may be difficult, but it needs to be seen to be part of the team working towards the goal. A leader is not afraid to roll up their sleeves and get dirty. Confident leader to lead and set direction, a leader needs to appear in the leadership role. This leader inspires confidence in others and draws out the trust and best efforts of the team to complete the task well. Conveys confidence towards the goal objective and inspires the best effort from team members. Effective leader has an orderly and purposeful manner in situations of uncertainty. People observe the leader during times of uncertainty and unfamiliarity. They find reassurance and security when they look up to the leader during times of uncertainty, portrays confidence and a positive demeanor.

A leader of tolerance and ambiguity remain calm and steadfast to the main purpose. Bigger emotions come and go, and a good leader takes these as part of the journey and keeps a cool head. Thinking the main goal in focus can think analytically. A good leader views a situation, but also able to break it down into sub parts for closer inspection. A good leader can view the goal and break it down into manageable steps and make progress towards it. Committed to excellence and lead to success, not only being proactive but committed to excellence in raising the bar to achieve excellence in all areas.
