PRIME BENEFITS VALUES EDUCATION

by:
Olivia M. Buensuceso
Teacher III
Alikabok Elementary School
Orani, Bataan

Learning skills and knowledge is very vital in school and teaching values is also another top concern in the field of education. Values education became a part of the curriculum in order to educate learners on the core values that they need to imbibe in their lives.

Considering the prime benefits of values education is worth-knowing.

Values education teaches to diligently cooperate with teachers, peers and other important people in our lives. It makes us realize that we have to live purposely as we get along with the significant others.

Values education motivates us to be responsible. It is taking the responsibility in everything you do like in school work, in handling leadership in the class, and even in real-life scenario. Being responsible is then cultured in the school.

Values education augments the abilities of the learners to work independently. It develops self-sufficiency to perform duties and builds initiative to do important tasks in the school and even outside.

Values education capacitates the learners to deal with the practical side of life. It makes one confident and strong in existing vicissitudes and to be resilient in facing tomorrow with strength and courage.
Values education makes one be prudent in setting decisions whether in school or in real life. Values education sharpens the decision-making of the learners in the school for them to be wise in their undertakings.

Values education builds a strong character. Through the kind of teachings that values provide particularly on the kind of traits that one must possess, the character of a person is enhanced.

Values education makes a man well-educated. Through the core values of humanity that one learns in the school, this could make the individual possess good manners and thinking, making this person more educated.

Values education brings a lot of benefits to the learners and they should take them completely in order to be the best people that they can be.

One should live with endearing values and it is in the school where one could learn them. These values are not only applicable in the school but it is also employable in the outside world where we will spend most of our lives.

Take it as an advice!

References: