The students respect and adore teachers for their traits and the following are the attributes that they look for in a teacher. The list of characteristics that every student expects from a teacher is given:

Students love funny teachers. Having a great sense of humor is so pleasing to the school kids. They love teachers who make them smile and even laugh.

Teachers that are supportive and helpful are best adored by young individuals. They are always at the learner’s side in times of need and difficulty.

Another attribute of a teacher is being a good listener. This kind of teacher spends time in listening to the voices of kids who have questions and other queries.

The teachers who are friendly are also endearing to the students. They are brother or sister figures who can build up the morale of kids.

The teachers who are fair in everything are also being admired. The impartiality or objectivity of teachers most especially in treating the students is essential.

Being an approachable teacher is also sought after. Being a person that a student may run too in times of need is good.

Kind teachers are also being look upon by learners. The benevolence of a teacher is what they look in the school.
Passionate teachers in terms of work are worth-emulating and learners love to see teachers who have passion in teaching and in rearing kids.

Teachers who are knowledgeable are considered very credible. They serve as guide in searching various branches of knowledge.

These are just the few characteristics of the sought after teachers and these describe how great teachers are.
