A successful teacher can be vividly described since he/she possesses qualities far above among the rest. He/she remains intellectually curious and professionally vital both inside and outside the classroom. He/she manifest excellent character and brilliant behaviors that are truly admirable and worth emulating.

Here are the outstanding qualities of a successful teacher, to wit:

Primarily, successful teachers hold high expectations for students. An effective teacher expects great accomplishments from students, not less. Boost the child’s self-confidence in doing the best. But prior to this, he/she persuades and assists the child in his development, enhancement and progress thus attaining for himself/herself an immense achievement.

Next, successful teachers always think creatively. He/she is full of ideas for creative teaching-learning process. Best teacher thinks out of the usual box, out of the traditional classroom and out of conventional norm. He/she leaps to bring better ideas and settings that will invigorate the learning activities. His/her notions and ideas are far beyond the usual. It’s just like a full-packed level that emits greatness.

Moreover, top teachers are versatile and sensitive. He/she is an individual who does a lot of things and can sense the needs of others. In line with this, his/her multiple roles are multitude of tasks. He/she performs very well in all his/her endeavors and undertakings. Despite the burdens of job, the top teachers still remain with grace and composure.
Furthermore, successful teachers are curious, confident and evolving. He/she is cognizant of the world. He/she is confident in facing work and life challenges and keeps on improving in conformity with the needs of time. Successful teachers try new ways and approaches and not threatened by the new ways of doing things in school. In addition, successful teachers have strong core values and ready to embrace new technologies.

Successful teachers always emphasize the fun in learning. These teachers create lighthearted fun out of serious learning. Life in school would be more stimulating, dynamic, active and entertaining with the help of successful teachers. A classroom setting can be more inviting once the top teachers craft a wonderful ambiance.

Finally, successful teachers always highlight humane approach. Promoting love, affection and harmony with the learners is truly admirable. Let the child feel that they belong and that someone cares for him. Successful teachers are always there to give a helping hand and an altruistic service for the welfare of the child.

These are the best qualities that epitomize the true picture of a successful teacher. Be one; be in the success of your teaching profession.

References:

http://udyong.net/teachers-corner/5139-successful-teachers