SUPERB CAREER IN TEACHING

by:
Rowena C. Perez
Teacher II, Orani North Elementary School

It is in your own hand where your better teaching career lies. It is a matter of considering worthwhile ideas where you could attain success in your profession.

Perform your duties and responsibilities religiously. Whatever you do is the reflection of yourself. Always perform very well for you to attain a better career in teaching. A teacher who works hard achieves better.

Love what you are doing. The passion for teaching is instrumental in showing your love and dedication for work. To execute your job as a teacher, you need the willingness to give the excellence in educating the youth.

Care for learners. Teacher has a big heart to serve and this is what is anticipated in you as a teacher. Altruistically share what you have and make the students feel that they are important. The care is evident in every teacher’s act.
Follow the superiors. The teachers who are successful are the ones who follow their superiors. Being obedient is an outstanding attitude that a teacher must possess. It is essential that a teacher recognizes authority and respects the superior.

Respect your colleagues. The teacher who respects colleagues may also have superb teaching career. It is important that a teacher can establish harmony with others respecting other’s views and opinions. In this way no conflict may be formed.

Mingle with parents very well. The teacher is also expected to deal with the parents in a way that camaraderie is established. One may find a teaching career superb if the people around are affirmative on what you are implementing most especially in the education of the learners.

Show service to the community. The teacher may also serve the community as part of the moral obligation. It is admirable to see a teacher whomingles with the people in the community and who helps them in varied advocacies.

Having a superb teaching career entails a lot of considerations and indeed these are all worthwhile to follow.

References: