Statues are often built with a purpose of commemorating some of the famous individuals, people who did something very important to the country or even on small communities. Some statues commemorate heroes of different countries such as our very own – Dr. Jose P. Rizal, in Luneta Park. In relation to this, some statues are built by engineers and architects while other statues are built by another dimension, not by an individual. These statues commemorate only one thing – Modern World wherein the people become statue whenever a gadget is handed over their hands like, cellphones, laptops, play stations, and others. The statue symbolizes the not so good effect of technology. The power of the another dimension is so powerful that it can turn the people into “Living Statues” and have an Alzheimer’s Disease which selectively forgets the things that they should do. In relation to education, the students of the modern world are somehow become the victims and directly neglect their responsibilities to study and do their activities especially in this time of pandemic wherein the COVID-19 exists. The statues continue to follow their “id” such as playing games in their cellphone, watching videos in the internet, etc. that turns them to neglect their duties in the school. The another dimension which builds “Living Statues” are so wide that every person who has access inside it could be there anytime and sadly, some of them can hardly escape.
