Technology and Livelihood Education also known as TLE is said to be the most practical of all the learning areas in the school curriculum for it covers knowledge and aptitudes on various applications of real-life work or job. It is a very productive subject area that caters livelihood and technological skills.

To be a dynamic member of the workforce of the society someday, a child has to be developed and honed in TLE subject from elementary to secondary levels. Learning the basics in housekeeping or house chores, food preparation, culinary arts, carpentry, industrial work, electronics, computer, accounting, dressmaking and among others are being featured and given emphasis in TLE.

TLE is said to be a subject course that is used in preparing for a career path in business, in technical-vocational field, in computer or even in the office. In addition, it provides livelihood training that helps the students learn how to handle activities that will make them learn and at the same time earn.

The importance of TLE is very much evident for the young people for they will be able to face the real world if they are kept abreast with the skills and aptitudes required in accomplishing tasks in work and in business. TLE makes them ready to face the challenges that may be brought by the future.

It is very significant for the students to closely focus on TLE because various industrial and technological skills are being learned or acquired in this subject and they are valuable in the school and in work outside. The things you learn in TLE can be used for lifetime at home, in the school, in work and in business.

In the global community Technology and Livelihood Education plays an essential role in transforming the learners into more responsible, progressive, creative and fruitful individuals who are ready to compete internationally.

TLE also teaches the values of industry, responsibility, independence and creativity. It teaches one to excel and reach a dream for tomorrow. It makes one prosper in life and enables one to enjoy the fruit of labor.

Indeed, TLE is one practical subject that needs to be learned not just for the sake of learning but also for the purpose of empowering the youth to live with hard work. It is a real fact that TLE can make one live and survive the tests of life.
