In place of the traditional seminars and trainings for the teaching and non-teaching personnel of the Department of Education (DepEd), virtual seminars or webinars were introduced for the purpose of social distancing and to reach remote areas.

Virtual seminars is more convenient than the face-to-face conventional seminars that DepEd were conducting before. The participants no longer reach far places in order to learn and acquire information related to education and to work.

Through the virtual seminars or webinars, the participants may also enjoy the comfort of their homes or anywhere they are. With the use of the mobile phones, laptops, desktops, tablets and the like, the access to the seminars would be easier.

Virtual seminars are designed to capture a large audience. Webinars are not only confined in one locality but it may also be watched or attended nationally but even internationally or worldwide. It is wonderful to know that using different electronic platforms, educating large group of people would be possible.

The virtual seminars or webinars present very catchy and very attractive videos and audios. The slides and presentations being flashed on screen may lead to the more interactive and sophisticated method of showcasing information, knowledge and notions.

The appeal of virtual seminars can catch the attention and interest of every participant. Listening to a virtual seminar may motivate and inspire the minds and emotions of the participant to attain the essence and value of it.
Indeed, virtual seminars was introduced not only to inform or education but also enlighten and inspire people.

Kudos to this kind of way of attending seminars for educational purpose!

Virtual seminars or webinars are created for the sake of the people, in their productivity, progress and competence.
