WHY IS IT IMPORTANT TO HAVE CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT?

by:
Milany R. Manalansan
Teacher III, Kaparangan Elementary School

Classroom management refers to the broad variety of skills and techniques that teachers use to keep students organized, orderly, focused, attentive, on task and academically productive during a class. Perhaps the most evident aspect of effective classroom management is classroom rules and procedures. It convey the message that “I’m here to teach and you’re here to learn." We give students the structure they read and help them feel that the classroom is a safe and predictable place.

There are a lot of number and kind of rules and procedures vary from class to class and from grade to grade, but every good teacher has then. How students treat one another, when and how students may leave the room and when it is appropriate to speak out in a class or in common topics for rules and procedures in every grade.

As a teacher, we should set a standard of classroom management to make a classroom more conducive to learn.

The main goal of classroom management is to lessen misdeed in the classroom. Effective classroom management gives the student little time to misbehave. Because the expectations are clearly explained, the students know what they need to do. Transitions in particular are easier to control when a teacher has a strong classroom management skills.

References: