Education as we all know plays a major part in our daily lives. A person who does not have education is not treated well in our situation. The people considered them as idiot or nothing if they do not have education. Some says that if you are educated, the people differently looked at you. They respected you so much.

But the biggest question is why is there an education in times of pandemic? The Department of Education launches the new education system which we call Pandemic Education. Why such term? It’s because education is happening in times of pandemic wherein we used modules in transferring learning to our pupils through the use of parents. We issued modules to our learners. The parents are the one explaining the content of the modules for the pupils to answer them. Teachers prepared a lot of activities to be given to their respective pupils. If the modules are not yet issued, they make semi-modules which contain the short explanation about the topic and the examples for that and the activities to be answered by the pupils at home. Then the principal of the school sets time wherein the modules and the activities are to be submitted to the teachers.
