MESSAGE

To Batch 2016, Congratulations!

You deserve to be praised and commended for toiling and braving years of studies; that despite the many challenges you encountered, you stood out as achievers in your own right. I admire your sense of direction. You understand the value of your work and contribution in developing yourselves through active participation in the academics and in the co-curricular activities. All of you deserve a resounding applause because you made it through this stage of your life, and I can only assume that you are determined to continue your quest for excellence so that at the end of your educational journey, you may find stability, happiness and better opportunities.

The Department of Education, Schools Division Office of Bataan in particular, joins you and your parents and guardians in your jubilation and high hopes for the future.

Dear graduates, learn to be more patient and perseverant because things can be seriously challenging and your strong conviction and stern determination are needed to overcome any trials and problems.

I hope that your Alma Mater has prepared you not only in terms of knowledge and skills but more importantly on how you cope with life in general.

Be successful. What you will become in the future is your personal accountability. The adults around you like your parents and teachers are mere facilitators. They will guide you and advise you. In the end, you will make your own decisions. Be wise then.

It is my fervent and sincere prayer that all of you will make it through in life. Things will be better for others; and others may not be given the same good chance in life. Take every opportunity to enhance yourselves. Seek the guidance of your parents. Have faith in God.

Again, congratulations!

JESSIE D. FERRER, CESO V
Schools Division Superintendent